

Katrina Rocha Artist Statement

Katrina Rocha is an oil painter based in Southern California. She received her Bachelors of Fine Arts from California State University of Fullerton. Influenced by traditional realism, Katrina uses color and light to not only to describe her subjects, but to create a sense of mood and a glimpse into a tangible moment in time. Through the use of photography and observation, her work practice reveals the undiscovered within the mundane.

@Katrina_br and my website www.katrinarocha.com